

COOKING for KIDS aims to change the landscape of school nutrition through chef-led culinary training for school nutrition professionals resulting in:

- Greater availability of freshly prepared foods
- Increased student participation in school meals
- Expanded public support for child nutrition programs

The innovative training program includes:

- Culinary skill development for school nutrition professionals
- Building food flavor without added sugar, fat and salt
- Creating Smarter Lunchroom environments
- Extensive on-site chef consultations personalized to the local school district

Funded by the Oklahoma State Department of Education Child Nutrition and led by Oklahoma State University faculty, COOKING for KIDS brings together a multidisciplinary team of industry experts to provide relevant and in-depth training opportunities for Oklahoma school nutrition professionals.
